HAVE YOU A
HEART? — THEN GIVE!

"Misfortune, distress and suffering in Russia is so widespread, so enormous, that words cannot describe it. If human kindness still exists on this earth, then a heart must bleed wherever a heart exists."

DR. FRIDTJOF NANSEN, High Commissioner, Russian Famine.

Men and Women of America, workers all, prove you have hearts that bleed for these:

- for 10,000,000 withered children crying in vain for a crust of bread.
- for 20,000,000 unfortunate men and women who, by famine, invasion and boycott denied the fruits of their toil, have been cast on the rack to be slowly broken by the cruel torture of hunger.
- for the 50,000 doomed to perish each day in the famine areas, this day, and to-morrow, dying in fearful agony.
- for the anguished mother, goaded by hopeless impotence to drown her wasting children.
- for the maddened human beings who, here and there, driven by an unconquerable craving eat the corpses of the fallen.
- for a people, more than one tenth of humanity, who, blockaded by the Wall Streets of the world, having repelled imperialist invasion, now face this famine which brings misery and suffering such as this modern world has never known.

Workers all, have you hearts that bleed for these?

THEN GIVE!

Give of your bread, however modest the gift of your meager store may be!

Give to still the piteous cries of the poor Russian children!

Give to save thousands every day from the awful sentence of death by starvation!

Give and sign the Roll Call so that your name, with those of hundreds of thousands of others, may constitute a message of solidarity such as will give new strength and courage to Soviet Russia!

Give generously, that the coming Spring may find the Volga prairies, not silent with death, a great graveyard white with millions of skeletons, but astir with the hopeful living activity of a delivered people, toiling anew for a better world!

Give, men, women and children, give in multitudes, give mightily, so that every one of the many ships now leaving for Russia shall go laden with life-saving gifts from you!

Sign the Roll Call! Have a Heart! Give!

Addressed to you by the Friends of Soviet Russia and signed by:

SIGN THE ROLL CALL

Help send a million dollars in food to the workers of Soviet Russia by May 1, 1922.

GIVE GENEROUSLY!

The next two months will be the most crucial. 50,000 are dying each day.

Take this page of the Roll Call Book to every friend, man, woman, child and sympathizer. All should sign and give. Give much or little, but sign and give.

The Roll Call Book will be sent to Soviet Russia together with shipments of food made before May 1st.

The Roll Call Book deposited in the archives of Soviet Russia, will be treasured as a document attesting the International Solidarity of the Workers and registering Russia's sympathizers.

The Roll Call Book will indeed be a message of sympathy from you to Soviet Russia.

The names of all Friends of Soviet Russia must appear therein.

ROLL CALL BOOK

WORKING-MEN and women, friends and sympathizers, all whose names stand here, have given to Soviet Russia in the hour of her direst need. They have fed the hungry and clothed the naked of Russia, thereby breathing fresh courage into the hearts of those who have been bold enough to strike for freedom. The signatures here appended attest to the International solidarity of the workers and those in sympathy. Surrounded by prejudice, they have dared to place the public seal of their trust and hope in the World's First Labor Republic.
